2017 Elisabeth Anna

TASTING NOTES:

Embark on a journey of heritage and passion with our Elisabeth Anna, a captivating blend of Pinot Noir, Merlot, and Dakaipo from a distinguished VDP winery. Named in loving tribute to the winemaker's grandmother, this wine embodies the spirit of family tradition and the pursuit of excellence. In the glass, the Elisabeth Anna enchants with its deep garnet hue, hinting at the complexity and depth of flavors that await. On the nose, be greeted by an aromatic bouquet of ripe red berries, including succulent cherry, juicy raspberry, and hints of blackcurrant, intertwined with subtle notes of cedar, spice, and a whisper of earthy undertones. Savor the harmonious fusion of flavors on the palate, as layers of red fruits, dark chocolate, and savory herbs unfold with grace and finesse, guided by velvety tannins and a lingering finish that leaves a lasting impression. With its seamless integration of varietals, this blend offers a symphony of sensations that captivate the senses and invite contemplation with each sip. Crafted with reverence and care, the Elisabeth Anna pays homage to the VDP winery's legacy of excellence and dedication to quality winemaking. Reflecting the unique terroir of its vineyards and the winemaker's vision, this blend is a testament to the enduring power of tradition and the timeless beauty of family heritage. Whether shared among loved ones or savored in quiet reflection, the Elisabeth Anna invites you to embrace the joys of life's simple pleasures and celebrate the enduring bonds of kinship and tradition. Raise a glass to the memory of Elisabeth Anna and the timeless legacy she inspires, with every bottle a tribute to her enduring spirit and the love that she bestowed upon her family.
